How small a part of time they share
That are so wondrous sweet and fair! —Waller

A school is only a building of brick and stone—dead and inanimate — unless it is filled with people —
It is these people, their interests and activities, that make a school year unique.
In the 1968-69 school year many students have found the opportunity they seek.

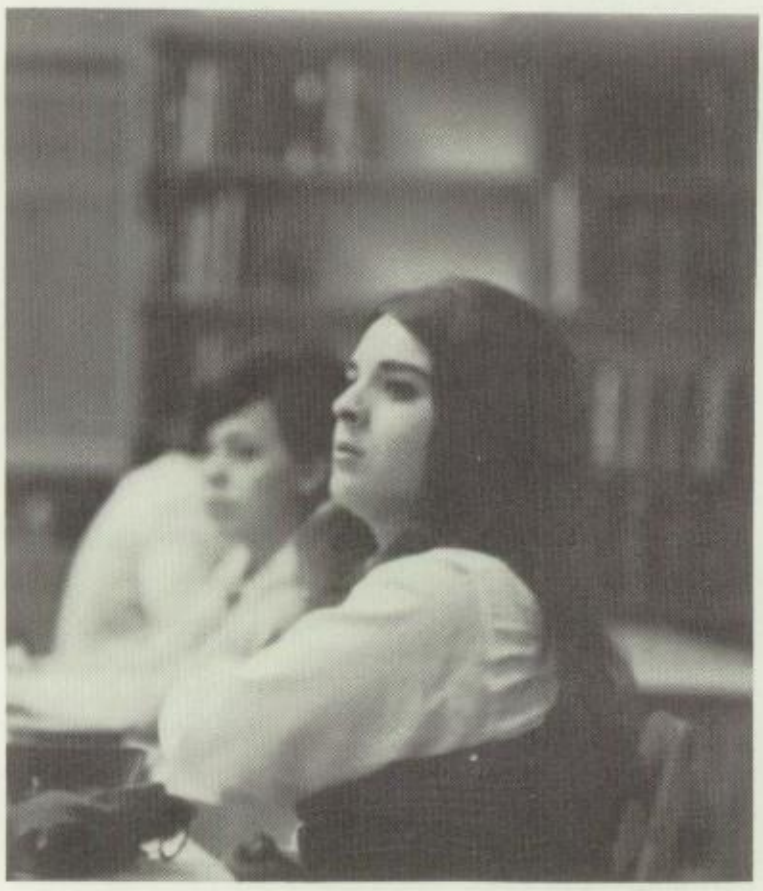
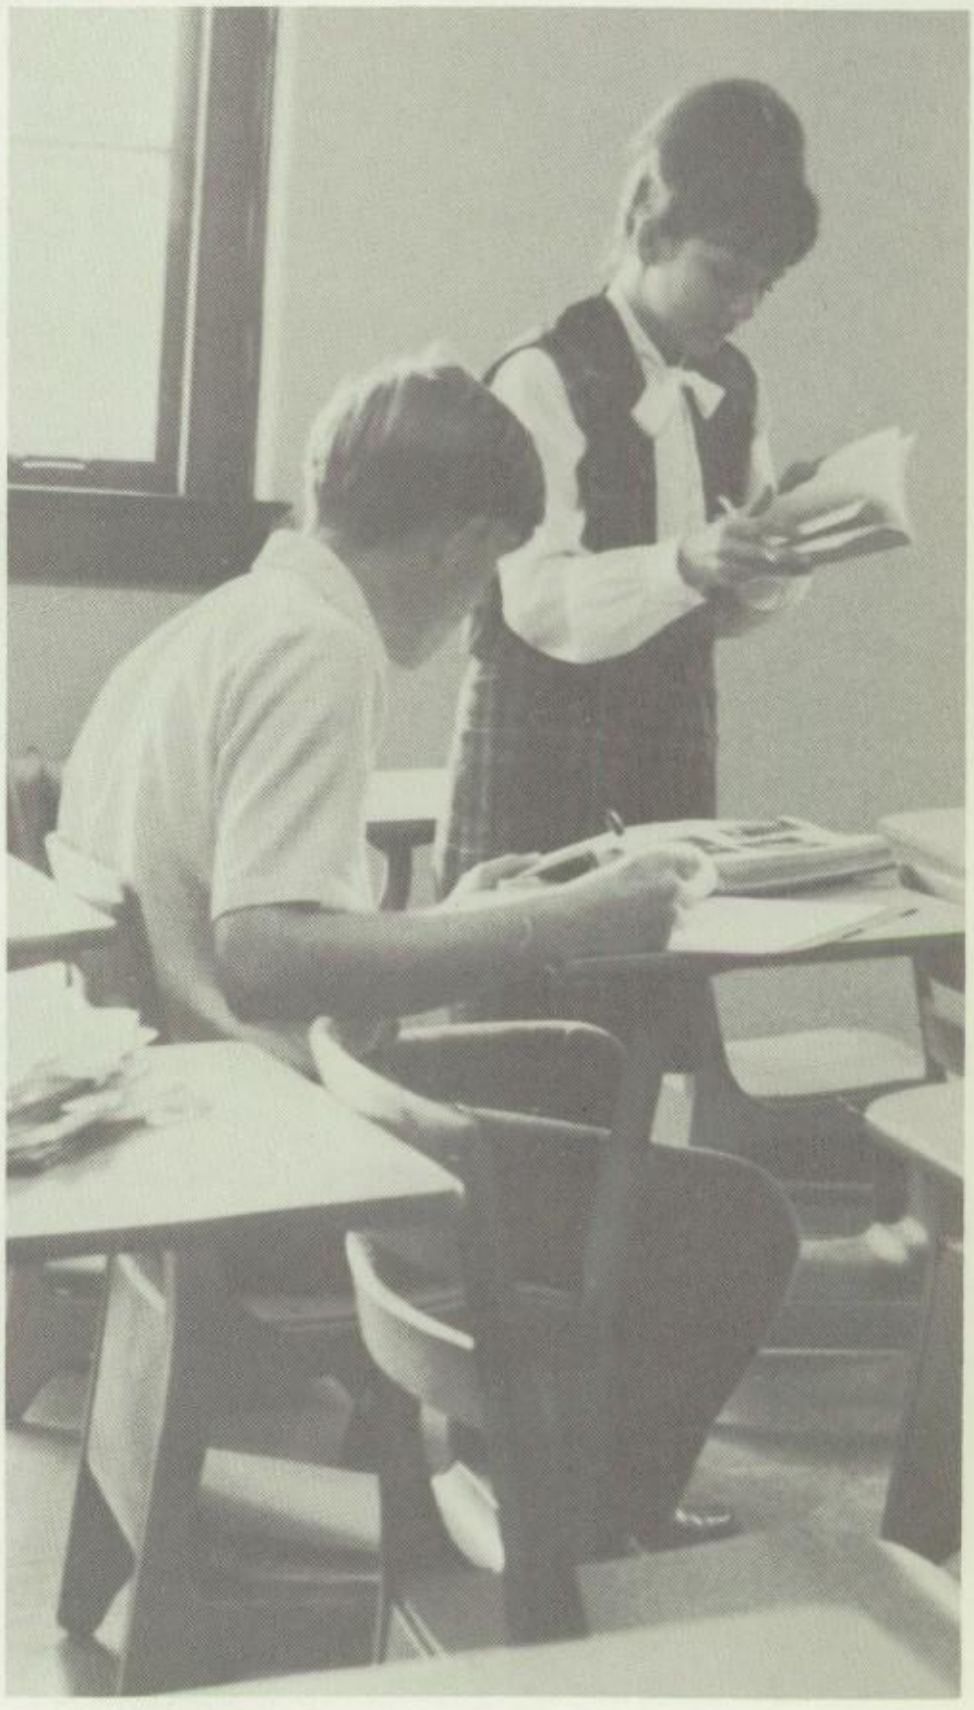
The opportunity . . .

. . . to learn

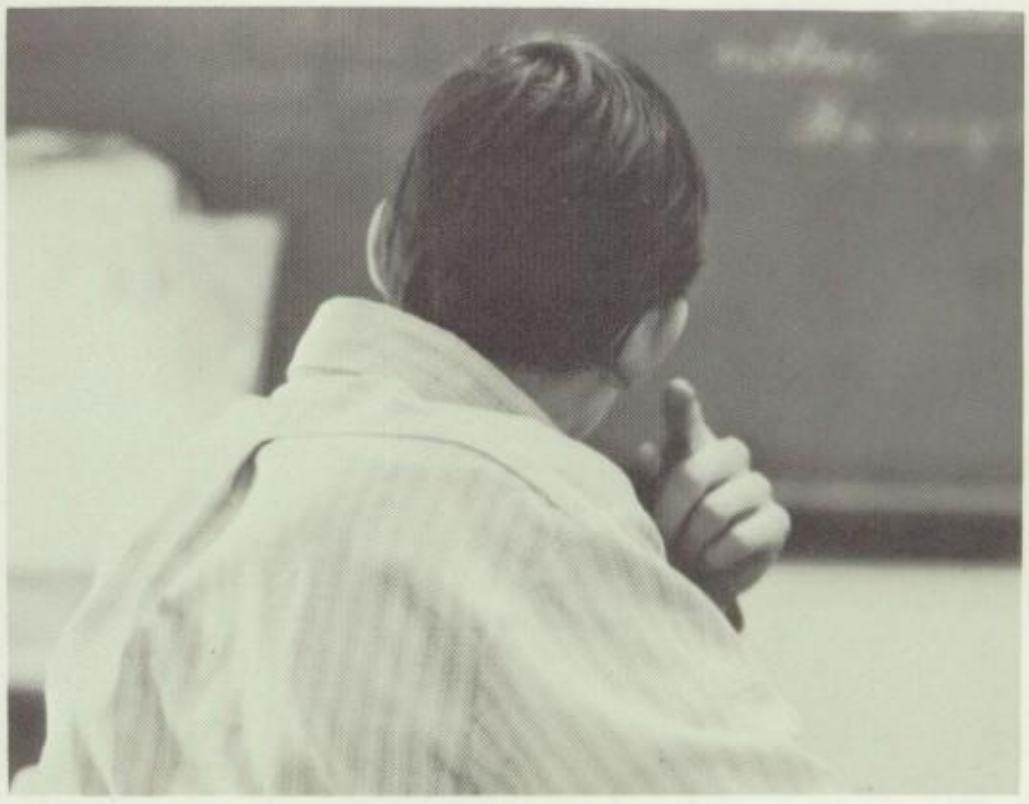




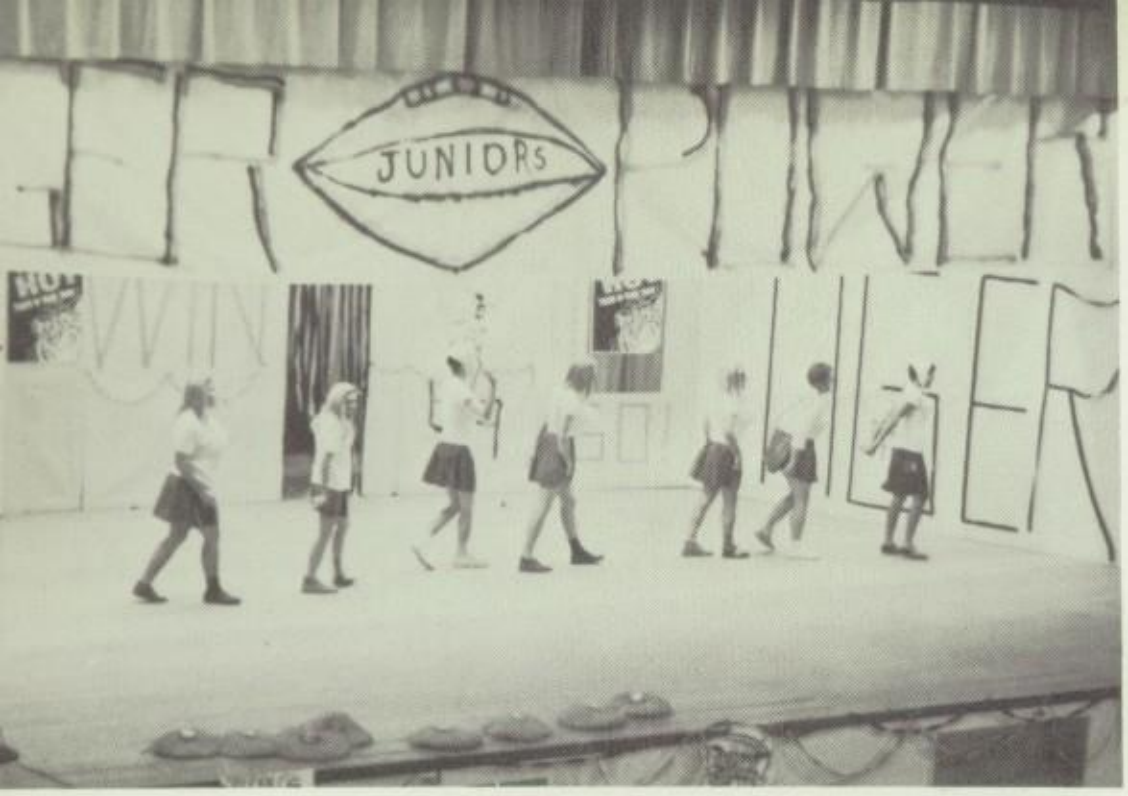
. . . to accomplish

. . . to create

. . . to express



. . . to make friends



. . . to have fun

MR. ROBLYER takes time out from his busy day to pose for the camera.

Administration

Superintendent Carl Roblyer is well known to most students as he served as high school principal for six years.

A quiet spoken man, friendly and humorous, Mr. Roblyer never forgets the aim of education is scholarship and ideals for living a good life.

Wewoka public education has achieved much under the supervision of the board of education. These members elected by popular vote, interpret the needs and desires of local patrons and then put these desires into policies and programs to insure the finest possible education for this generation.

MEMBERS OF THE SCHOOL BOARD ARE: J. C. Jackson, Dr. Claude Knight, Carl Roblyer, Warren Sarber, Floy Floyd, F. C. Nicholson, and John Myatt.

Principal Euric Hunter is new to our school this year. He comes from Tahlequah where he served five years as junior high principal. Mr. Hunter is enthusiastic about the new vocational carpentry class and hopes to add more vocational courses to the curriculum.

Secretaries Aid Administration

Keeping an office running smoothly requires much work and cooperation. Several volunteer helpers gain much knowledge of office procedures while assisting Mrs. Miner in the principal's office. Mrs. Dennis and Mrs. Hill keep track of everything from paper clips to payroll in the superintendent's office.

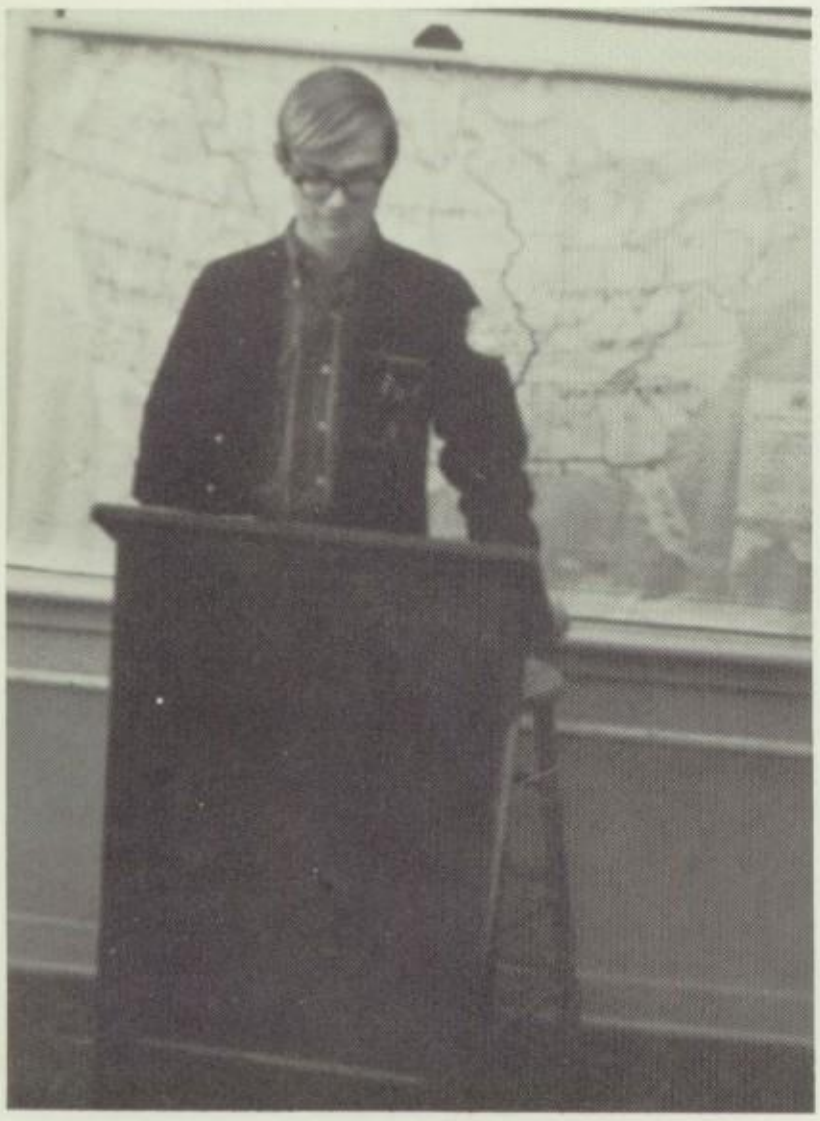
GIRLS WORKINS IN THE OFFICE ARE (FROM L. TO R.): Diana Choate, Debbie Lindeman, Marilyn Billingsly, Debbie Chaney, Jana Parris, Brenda Moore, Cindy Barnes, Jeanie Cullifer, Elaine Rolen, Lana Logan, Jan Sarber, Augusta Kinney, and Gilda Franklin.

MRS. EDWARDINE MINER, Mrs. Vesta Dennis and Mrs. Shirley Hill keep the office machinery working smoothly.

Counselor Lends Hand

Mr. Joe Larimore, counselor, administrates standardized tests and advises students about jobs and colleges. Seniors Marilyn Billingsley, Mike Filson, Tom McEhaney, Tommy Fairbanks, and Connie Lewis study the ACT booklet before registering for the test. This examination is required for entrance to any Oklahoma college.

History Classes Probe Past And Present



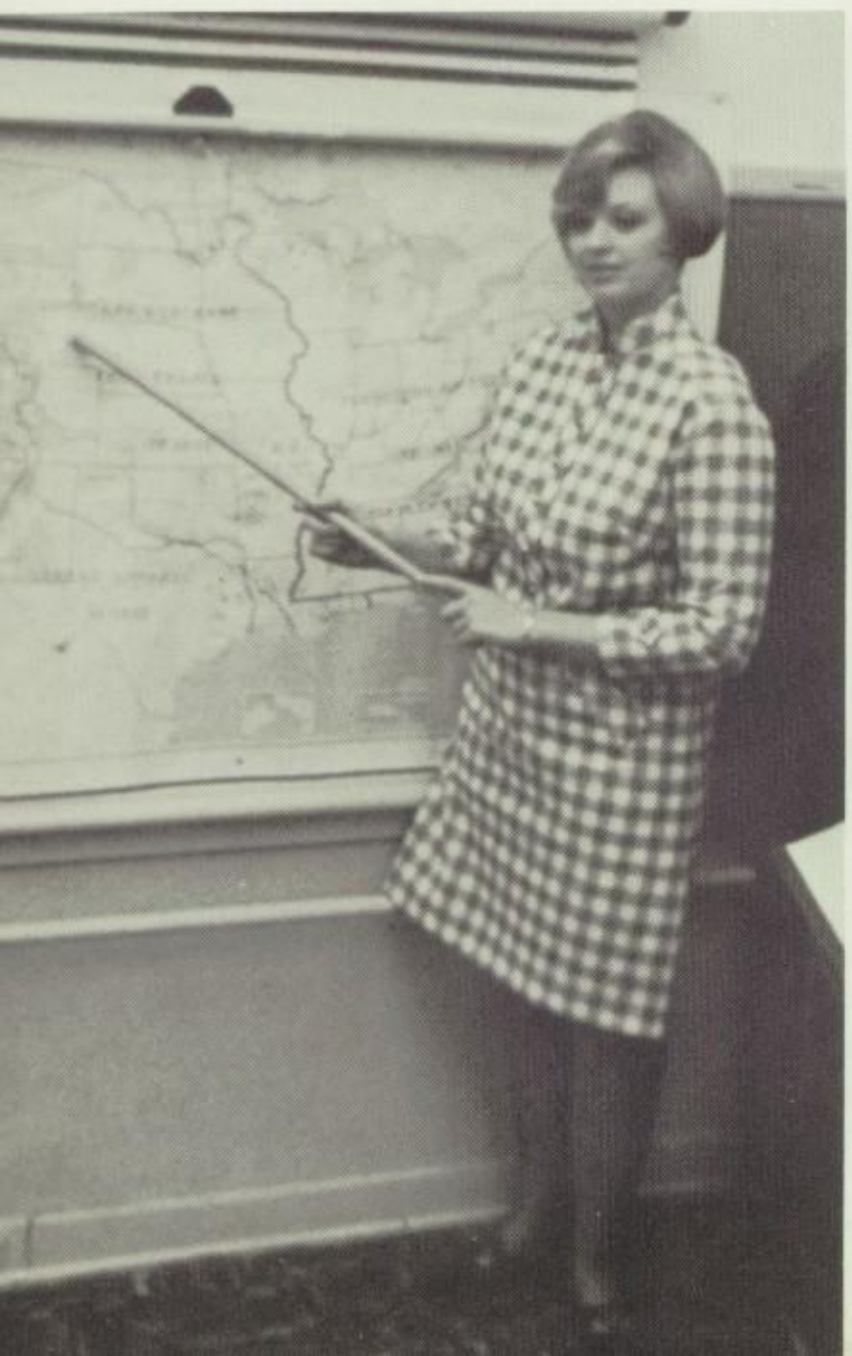
DEAN PAGE, HISTORY STUDENT, gives oral report for extra points.

With the aid of maps, magazines, newspapers, and special reports, history classes studied the past and reviewed the problems of social life in the present.

History classes keep up with both civic and world events by reading a metropolitan newspaper.

Another division of social studies is Problems of Democracy. Mr. Bill Jackson teaches this class which presents problems faced by our American democracy and the solutions possible under our form of government.

MR. BILL JACKSON takes time to rest between classes to rest.

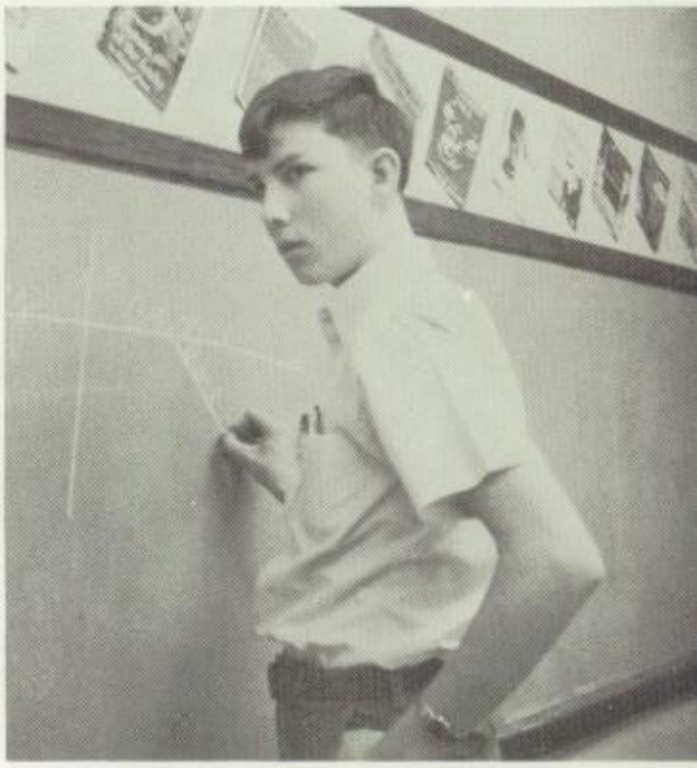


CATHY BARNES, American History teacher, uses illustrations as she teaches the lesson.

SOPHOMORE, JUNIOR AND SENIOR English teachers work together on semester tests. They are Mary Lou Kedy, Lena Yandell, and Joan Ligon.

English Required For All Students

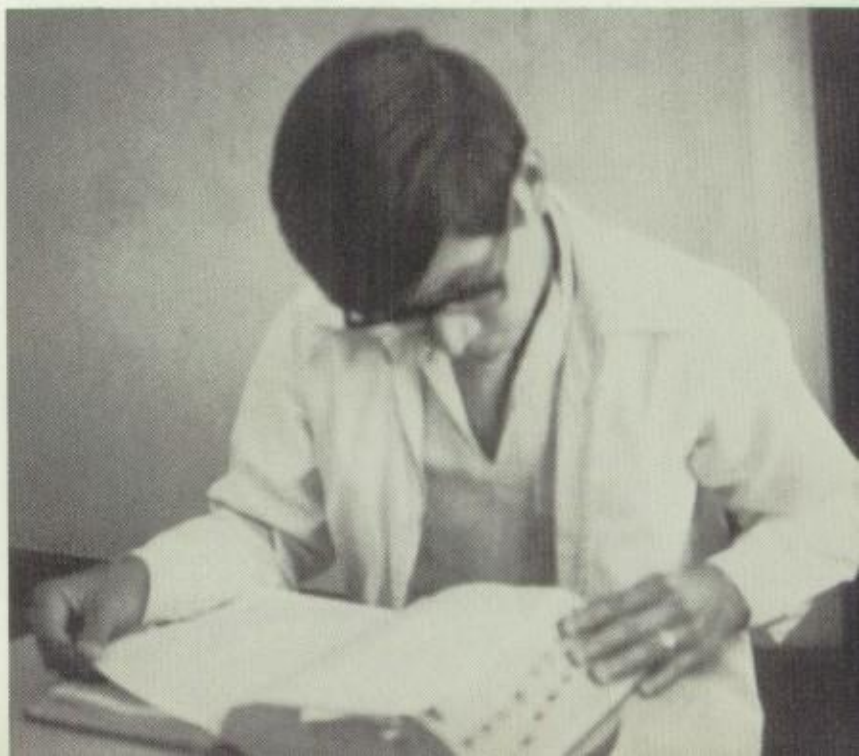
Every student is enrolled in an English class every year. Stressing skills in grammar, composition and literature, the English department hopes that every graduate will be able to use his language and to understand and appreciate the literature of yesterday and today.



DONNIE THATCHER takes advice from his sophomore English teacher.

MARVIN LITTLE, a third year English student, diligently looks up his words for the weekly vocabulary test.

THE SOPHOMORE ENGLISH classes thoroughly enjoy their practice teacher, Mrs. Billie Stout.



"BEWARE MACDUFF!" Apparition Carzell Marzett warns Macbeth as witches Danny Criswell, Mike Filson, and Mike Stevenson look on in fiendish delight.

WRITING A THEME in senior English class requires thought and concentration.

MRS. HARGROVE, the school librarian, lends a helping hand to Nancy Harrison.

Library A Door To Many Worlds

The powers of a library far surpass those of Merlin. It is the passport to the serious and whimsical worlds of past, present and future.

Students pride in their library was reflected this year in their care and usage of books. Mrs. Hargrove reports that an average of 150 books a week are checked out, but more than 200 books have been checked out in a single week. The Outsiders, a book about teenagers in the middle west, written by a young Tulsa girl, S. E. Hinton, appears to be the most popular book.

MRS. ADELIA KILCREASE teaches classes in Typing I and II, shorthand and bookkeeping.

BOOKKEEPING STUDENTS work on a set of books that must be completed first semester. Among other skills, second semester students learn to figure income taxes and to complete reports.

AUGUSTA KINNEY is taking dictation from a record. Many giris use shorthand skills in after school jobs.

"POSTURE IS IMPORTANT in typing," Mrs. Kilcrease informs Nancy Stidham as she guides her in beginning typing.

Business Classes Stress Skills

BESIDES COACHING duties, Mr. Glenn Secrest teaches Typing I and general business.

FIRST YEAR TYPING students learn to type manuscripts as well as business letters.

GENERAL BUSINESS students study investments of cash in stocks and bonds.

Speech Class Studies Communications

Speech I and II, drama, and debate are offered students. Speech I and II stress skills in communications and good speech habits. Drama students participate at contests in duet acting and one act plays. Debate students study logic, current economic and social problems, and oratory.

"OUR HEARTS WERE YOUNG AND GAY" was the first play of the year.

MRS. GRACE MUIR teaches all speech and debate classes.

CHRISTINE HILL, Frank Brown, and Karen Laquement are having a discussion on the age limit of voters.

REFERENCE BOOKS and filing cards are used as sources of information for debaters. Those participating in debate this year are ROW 1: Ricky Butner, Chris Aubrey, Jeary Smart, Bobby Thomas, Becky Wallace, Randy Hill, and Mark Wegener. ROW 2: Benora Perkins, Sharron Coley, Dale Patterson, Elizabeth Gardner, and Delbert Richardson.

Thespians Act Well Their Parts

Thespians National Honor Society follows their motto "act well your part." The Thespian Club is made up of students who have taken part in school productions. Members are selected through a point system devised by the National Thespian Society.

THESPIAN OFFICERS are Jan Sarber, Vice-President, Marilyn Billingsley, President, Jeary Smart, treasurer, and Chris Aubrey, secretary.

Chorus Sings for Contests and Clubs

Christmas programs, programs for A.A.U.W., and various meetings and conventions kept chorus members constantly working on new music.

Attending music festivals and contests have highlighted the activities for the chorus members. Preparations for the annual Christmas assembly was an added item on their agenda.

The chorus has sponsored groups for assembly programs such as The Chorale from Southeastern State College in Durant.

MRS. RITA VINSON directs both high school and junior high school choruses.

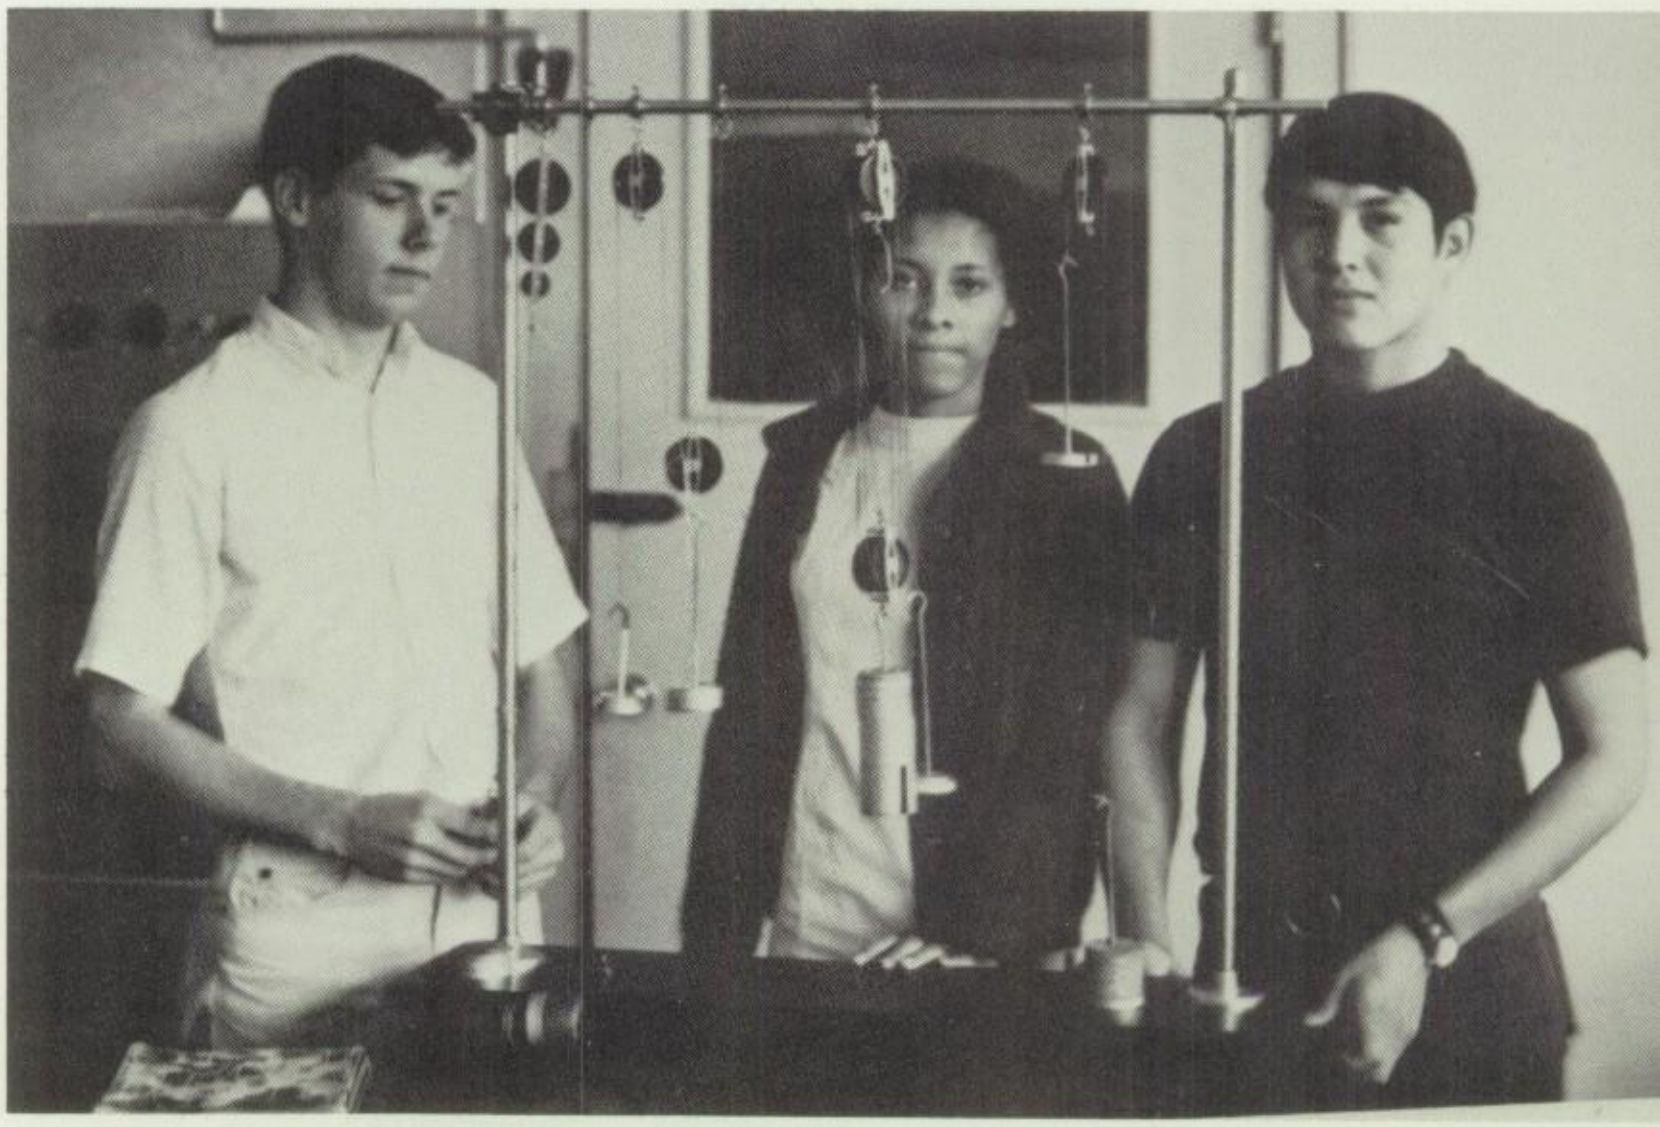
TWO OUTSTANDING MEMBERS of the mixed chorus are Lanelle Page and William James. William is a member of the all-state chorus this year and has been awarded a music scholarship to Southeastern State College. Lanelle was a member of last year's all-state chorus and sang this year in the Senior Honor Choir of East Texas State University at Commerce, Texas.

Sciences Challenge Students

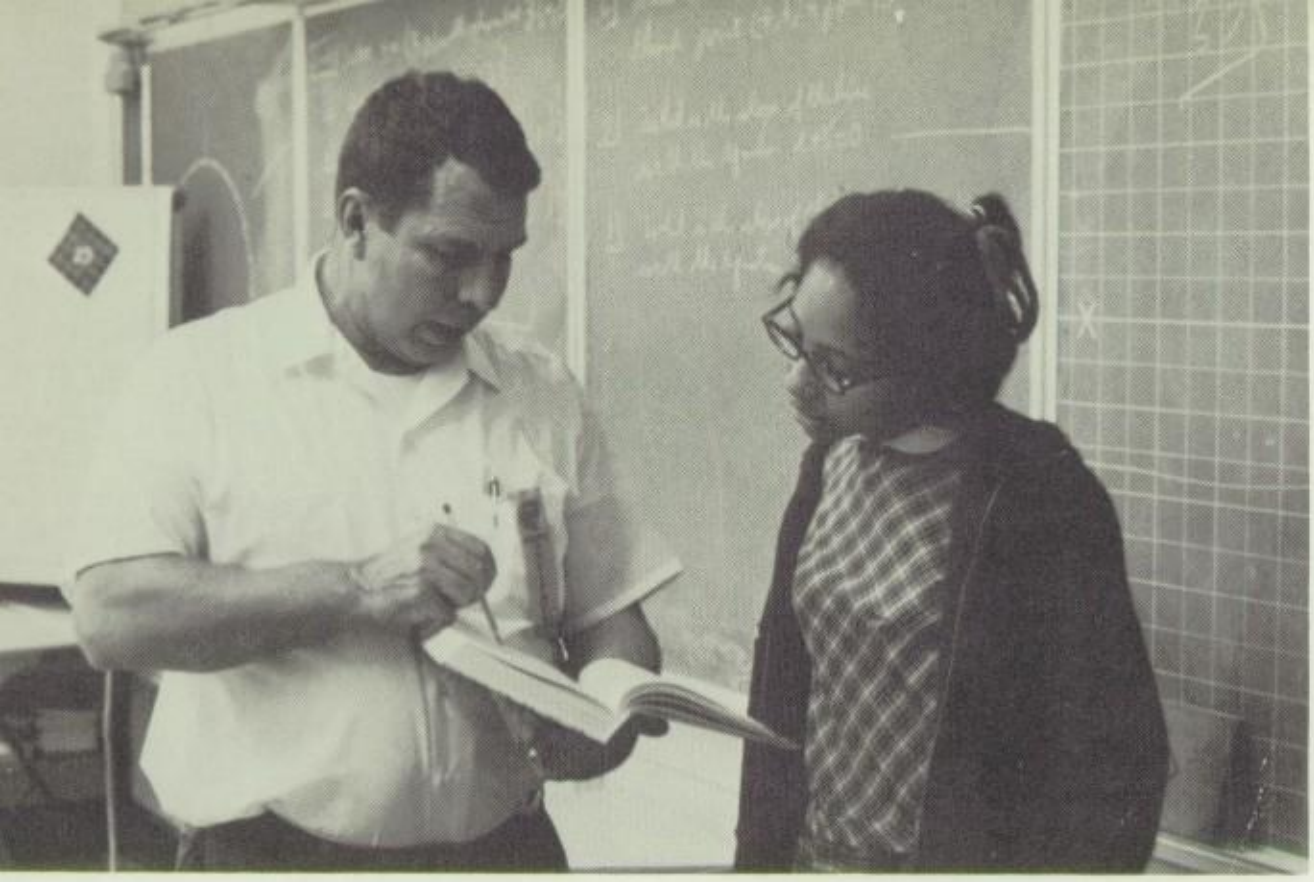
In a world where men are orbiting the moon, science becomes more and more important. Students at WHS can choose from three science courses: biology, chemistry, and physics.

HEAD OF THE SCIENCE DEPARTMENT, Mrs. Chelf teaches biology, chemistry, and physics. This is Mrs. Chelf's second year at WHS.



INDUSTRIOUS PHYSICS students Ricky Butner, Charletha Murry, and Ronald Notah study the theory of the "weight and pulley".

THESE STUDENTS are getting ready to conduct an experiment in chemistry class under the supervision of Mrs. Chelf.



MR. BILL GIBBS, head of the mathematics department, helps Pearlie Madkins to understand a problem in Algebra II.

Modern Math Serves Modern World

Modern math, computers, and technical innovations have brought many changes to math. Through the curriculum of algebra, geometry (plane and solid) and trigonometry students are made aware of the changes and learn to meet the challenges they demand.

Mr. Gibbs teaches all of these classes and serves as sophomore class sponsor. Many times Mr. Gibbs can be found keeping time at the football games. He was elected as outstanding teacher in Seminole County last year.

Spanish Study Stresses Oral Command

Que tiempo hace? is a frequent question asked students entering Spanish class. The oral approach to language is stressed by Mrs. Biggers who also insists upon correct writing and usage.

Third and fourth year students read a novel in the Spanish language.

Band Has Winning Ways

To rate a superior band takes many long hours of practice, but band members think this accomplishment is worth the effort. The band received 1's at both Central State College contest, and at Regional Marching contest. The highlight for many members was their invitation to perform with the Oklahoma University band during the half-time of their homecoming game.

Individual competition is also encouraged by Mr. Cook, and many students try out for All-State and District band. Darlene Lester, a junior, won the honor of first clarinet in the All-State band, which is quite an accomplishment for any band member.

The Stage band can be heard yearly at Katchu-tal, where their lively music during intermission and acts added to the gay spirit.

THE BAND COUNCIL, consisting of Peggy Campbell, Barbara Hill, Lu Ann Campbell, Barbara Butner, Marilyn Billingsley, Charlene Lester, Darlene Lester, Larry Smith, Donnie Thatcher, Keith Claybrook, and Danny Criswell made many important decisions for the band.

WHETHER MARCHING in formal uniform, on their own field, or in informal dress for a pep parade, the band's performance was always excellent. Their snappy routines and fine music provided delightful half-time entertainment for each home game.

Pep Club Service Projects Successful

Keeping spirit at a peak and completing two projects were goals met by the Pep Club.

To buy a new megaphone for the cheerleaders, the group sold shakeroos. This was not too difficult, for everyone seemed to want a shakeroo of school colors, orange and black.

A new idea for spirit was a snake dance consisting of the entire student body. Beginning upstairs, the snake moved downstairs and to the school yard where a pep assembly was held.

As a service project, the Pep Club voted to sell Tiger ribbons for the Quarterback Club, and keep no percentage of the sales. A representative of the Quarterback Club delivered the ribbons to the chairman of the service committee who then gave them to different girls each week to sell.
